LOCAL ITEMS. A Hundred Years Ago.

We are indebted to James Wilkin, o this city, for a fac similie of a paper over one hundred years old. It is the first number of the Maryland Journal and Baltimore Advertiser, bearing date Friday, August 20, 1773. It is a very diminutive affair, being about one-third the size of the DAILY RECORD, and has a quaint appearance, owing in a great degree to the use of the long "s," which has the appearance of the "f" now in use. On the first page is the salutatory of the publisher, in which "the great Difficulty " of obtaining "a proper Assortment of Printing Materials" and an inadequate Number of Subscribers

"an inadequate Number of Subscribers to defray the Charge of printing a weekly News-Paper" are advanced as an apology for the paper's failure to be issued at an earlier date. Another disability under which the publisher labored was the absence of a special post from Baltimore to Philadelphia. The paper promised to publish whatever was sent "in Favor of Liberty and the Rights of Man-Kind," promising that the paper should be free and of no party; and further undertaking to make "Agriculturand every Branch of Husbandry" a "primary Object of Attention," etc. In conclusion W. Goddard, the publishe, makes grateful acknowledgments "to those public-spirited gentlemen who exerted themselves in a remarkable Manner for the establishment of this Paper and the Printing-Business in the town and the Printing-Business in the town of Baltimore." The remainder of the first page is devoted to "A Letter from the Bishop of C. to the Earl of Bellamont, on his late duel with Lord Towns cellaneous matter; also news from Lon-don of June 14, 16 and 19, New York of August 12, and Philadelphia of August 11, also marine intelligence and a market report.

The third page contains a letter to Messrs. Chase and Paca, and a "Poetical Chronology:" besides advertisements.

The fourth page is filled with advertisements, including "A List of Letters left at Mr. William Adam's in Baltimore, by the Frederick-Town Post." One is an advertisement for a runaway Irish servant named Owen McCarty, offering 10 for his return. Two other advertisements are for runaway slaves. Another is that of Absalom Bonham, who where is inform the public that he ridge. begs to inform the public that he rides a Post from the town of Baltimore to the town of Frederick (once a week) from whence another Post rides to the town of Winchester, in Virginia. An-other is for "an active faithful Man, who can write a tolerable Hand, and keek a fair Account, and is otherwise well qualified to ride as a private Post or Carrier between this town and Phila-delphia, once a week, and is willing to undertake the Service immediately. There is also an advertisement on the fourth page which cannot fail to interest every American. It is dated "Mount Vernon in Virginia, July 15, 1773," and bears the signature of George Washing-ton. The advertisement offers a large tract of land for sale.

Br Careful. - Now when new stoves are being put up and old ones brought from outhouses to do service in their former places, is the time to be careful to take every precaution with regard to fire. It has been so long since the cry of fire has sounded in our ears that we are apt to forget how easy it is to burn our town. The moving of a stovepipe an inch or two to the right or left may cause or prevent a great conflagration.
Those who do business in fire-proof buildings should also be careful with their stoves, for in too much confidence there is danger. From this time for-ward, until the snow falls, there is more danger than in any other part of the year. Let us therefore try to prevent ares and be ready, and prompt in our efforts to extinguish them, should they occur.

SAVAGE DOGS .- As may be known to those who travel out towards the RECORD of buffalo on the plains, and once a bill printing office, there are several savage was introduced into Congress to predogs on the road between it and the Court-house. Yesterday evening, about Johnson's admirers are getting up a subhalf-past 6 o'clock, a lady walking along scription to compensate him for his heavy the road near the point where it turns to the road near the point where it turns to the west, was set upon by some of these brutes, and very badly frightened, though not physically injured. It is an outrage that these animals should be allowed to roam abroad at night. Their owners should remember that however good the should remember that however good the dogs may be as watchers, they have no commission to guard the public high-way. Every man has a right to walk the streets and to defend himself. When troublesome animals, whether men or beasts, make a show of interfering with this right, they should be shot.

THE TIMES.—We have heard a great deal said of late by certain parties, to the effect that times are unusually dull in Pioche. This fact must be admitted. the times are dull-for Pioche. But we of the Crown Point mine: This mine is have the consolation, if it be a consola- at present yielding 400 tons of ore per at all, of knowing that there is not a day, which is mostly being extracted bringing in immense loads of flour, and all sorts of groceries and provisions.

Barrels of liquor might also be seen unloading. Cords of wood were piled up in front of stores and salcons, and woodteams were continually coming in with their loads, suggestive of bright warm fires within, and Wintry weather without.

THEY WILL TALK .- Just now the town talk is mostly about the coming mining suit between the Raymond & Ely and Kentucky companies. Of course those who are interested are perfectly satisfied, who are interested are perfectly satisfied, whichever side they may be on that their party is in the right. Ill-natured people say that some of the term-jurors were very much dissatisfied that the case is to be tried without any jury. Some people will be disagreeable under any circumstances.

PERSONAL .- F. F. Marz, forwarding merchant at Toans, arrived in town late on Tuesday evening. Mr. Marx is well known in the mercantile community, either personally or by reason of business connections. He has appointed James Cronan as his agent in Piochean excellent appointment.

Ice. - Night before last ice was formed in shallow vessels. In the morning after sunrise, ice a quarter of an inch in thickness was formed in wash-basins.

Yesterday the weather was very cold.

Fortunately there was little or no wind.

Anniver.-Tom Plane, of White River Mrs. J. H. Terneau inquires through Ranch, has arrived in town. He brings the Elko Independent for information with him a large lot of cheese, butter, etc. such as his ranch alone can produce. May his cheese and butter never be less in quantity. If it is never poorer etc. such as his ranch alone can produce. May his cheese and butter never be less in quantity. If it is never poorer in quality than it has heretofore been, it will always be in demand.

ALL QUIET AT THE SEAT OF WAR.-Yesterday the peace and dignity of the State of Nevada remained undisturbed by the fighters of Pioche. The weather is too cool to allow the angry passions to expand and do serious injury.

THE SNOW IS COMING.—There is said to be snow on the road between this place and Hamilton, about twenty miles this side of Patterson station.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

We learn from the annual report of Mr. Orton, President of the Western Union Telegraph, that the company has sent free messages to the amount of $766,000 in the last year. According to the New York Times special from Washington, there will have to be made large appropriations to meet deficiencies, estimated for the next year, largely exceeding any previous year since Grant's Administration commenced.

Less than half a century ago the United States Government expenses were $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, while now they run up to several hundred mil-

THE Gold Hill News, of Saturday, says at all, of knowing that there is not a livelier town now in the State. People come here from all parts of the State, and from the mining camps of Utah, and all unite in saying that Pioche, dull as we may think it is, is the best camp they have found. However much a man growls about dull times, if you ask him why he don't leave, he will reply, "because there is notplace to go to. Other camps are worse than this." And this is true.

Winter Supplies.—Our merchants are now wisely laying in their supplies of goods for the coming Winter. Yesterday Main street was crowded with big teams, bringing in immense loads of flour, and mit of a resumption of the work, al-though the heat is so intense that the progress of the work must necessarily be slow. There is no change to report of the work on the 1400-foot level. FROM ARIZONA.—The Miner (Prescott) of October 11, affords us the following clippings: SALT RIVER VALLEY people are think-ing seriously of organizing a Farmer's Grange, for the purpose of influencing Government contractors to bid for con-tracts at living rates.

THE people of Phoenix, Salt River Valley, are still hoping to secure the capital.
They argue that their town is about the center of the populated portion of the Territory, quite easy of access and just the place for "the Government."

The judicial luminaries of Delaware decide that, when for twenty years any house or building has enjoyed light and air through a particular window or door, the opening cannot be closed by the owner of adjacent property. One Primrose undertook to put up a shed which would close the sitting-room window of a Dr. Clawson, who had enjoyed the privilege of gazing through said window for twenty years. The doctor secured a preliminary injunction against the completion of the shed, and Chancellor Bates has made it perpetual, by virtue of the AT THE RECORD OFFICE you cal.
